DESCRIPTION:

The Department of MBA (HR) is proud to present an exclusive Career Counseling Session on "Redefining New Age HR" scheduled for 14th August 2025 at Rockefeller Block, First Floor, Room No. 105. This session will be led by Mr. Sofi Zahoor, CEO, Human Capital India, a distinguished professional and thought leader in the field of Human Resources. In today's dynamic business landscape, Human Resource Management is no longer limited to administrative functions but has evolved into a strategic partner in organizational growth. With the integration of artificial intelligence, data analytics, digital tools, and people-centric strategies, HR professionals are expected to redefine their roles and create impactful contributions. This session aims to introduce students to the emerging trends, challenges, and opportunities in New Age HR, providing them with insights to stay relevant in a fast-changing industry. The counseling session will particularly focus on the career trajectories available in HR, highlighting skill sets that are most in demand, such as talent analytics, employee experience design, HR technology, and strategic workforce planning. Students will also be guided on how to align their academic learning with industry requirements, ensuring better employability and readiness for global opportunities. Beyond professional development, the session will inspire students to build a future-oriented mindset. By interacting with an industry leader like Mr. Zahoor, participants will gain practical perspectives that go beyond textbooks and help them understand the realities of the corporate world. The event promises to be interactive, encouraging students to raise questions, discuss their career aspirations, and seek personalized advice. This session is not just an event but a platform for transformation, equipping students with the vision and tools needed to redefine their HR careers in alignment with modern business needs. By the end of the session, students will be better prepared to position themselves as innovative, adaptable, and future-ready HR professionals.

OUTCOMES:

1. Students will understand the key shifts shaping the future of HR.
2. Participants will gain clarity on career pathways in the HR domain.
3. Learners will develop awareness of digital tools and innovations in HR.
4. Students will align personal career goals with market opportunities.
