About the Activity

Prof. Rafidah from UTM, Malaysia interacted with the students of B.com (Hons.) for a week. She discussed various principles of working capital management, its importance and other related concepts for a successful business enterprise. Some of the concepts included time value of money- that is the ever-changing capacity of money and its purchasing power, different capital structures and their role for different types and stages of a company’s growth. The other concepts included risk-return trade off, individuals’ response to incentives, mitigation agency cost, self-liquidating debts etc. The classes also included various practical activities like making charts and presentations on the application of the concepts learned. The students learnt the various useful concepts in an interactive and engaging environment.
