ANNUAL TRAINING CAMP, RUPNAGAR

Date: 5th July 2015

Since its inception at the University, NCC has been teaching soldering to many of our student volunteers. About 12 Cadets of Chitkara University Army Wing NCC attended the Annual Training Camp (ATC) held at NCC Training Academy, Rupnagar (Ropar). Apart from just learning things related to Army, Chitkara students bagged two medals and one trophy in the camp. Our cadets displayed excellent and outstanding performance and bagged any titles. The camp provided an excellent learning opportunity to all the cadets to imbibe the qualities of a good leader like self discipline, motivation, social adaptability, cooperation, teamwork, and turn out and how to live under tough conditions. The cadets completed the ATC successfully and were applauded by the other cadets at the camp as well as the NCC battalion that carried out the camp.

CELEBRATIONS OF OZONE DAY
Date: 17th SEPTEMBER 2015

'A healthy atmosphere the future we want.'

Environment is one such issue that every budding teacher should be sensitized about so that a better future can be built. Based on this notion, Chitkara College of Education for Women celebrated Ozone Day with unexplained fervor. It was an initiative taken by the faculty of CCEW in order to make the students aware regarding the hazards the environment is facing nowadays and most of us are oblivious about it. Events were organized in which the students not only enthusiastically participated but also brought laurels to them. Total thirteen students participated in the event and following activities were done.

CELEBRATION OF HINDI DIWAS

Date: 15th SEPTEMBER 2015

Even though we are aborigines of one of the biggest Hindi speaking Nation, Hindi has somehow lost its importance and hold over the Indians. In the modern era, be it a seven-year old kid or a seventy-year old grandparent, everyone is charmed by the spell of English Language. However, Chitkara College of Education for Women begged to differ with the ongoing trend and celebrated Hindi Diwas with fun and frolic. Varieties of events were hosted for the students in which they enthusiastically participated. The winners of the events were given certificates by Dr. Sangeeta pant (Dean). Total twelve students participated in activities. The Results of the events are as follows.

CELEBRATION OF LITERACY DAY (GENDER ISSUE)

Date: 17th SEPTEMBER 2015

Every one of us have observed differences among the treatment that females and males get. This difference is more prominent in the field of literacy. There are some changes that have happened for the equalization of the gender ratio. However, still there is a lot do so that no girl gets left behind with respect to gaining education and basic literacy. This is because of the reason that females contribute the other half for the development of any nation. If the girls get lag behind, there is no chance that any nation can get to the path of development quickly or at all. To make the alpha teachers aware about the importance of literacy in eradication of the gender issues, Chitkara College of Education for Women conducted Literacy Day (Gender Issues). This not only made the audience aware about literacy ratio but it also encouraged, as prospective teachers, to become responsible citizens of the country and provide basic literacy to whosoever in need. 12 students participated in the event.

AWARENESS SESSION ON CONTRIBUTION TO THE SOCIETY

Date: 12th DECEMBER 2015

Everyone live for themselves, but actual life is when it is lived for the betterment of others and to fulfill this notion nothing is better than association with an NGO-MAD. In order to sensitize it's ALPHA TEACHERS'; Chitkara College of Education organized an interview session with renowned NGO MAD (Make A Difference) wherein they were interviewed so that they could be associated permanently with them. Mr. Arvind Vairavan along with his associates conducted a one-o-one interview session and prior to this a group activity was conducted on the students wherein they had performed a role play. The interview session left a huge impact on the ALPHA TEACHERS' as they not only became sensitized towards the upliftment of underprivileged children but they also learnt the need of selfless living. The association proved to be a fruitful one as NGO MAD was greatly impressed with the ALPHA TEACHERS' and were ready to take them on board. Dr. Sangeeta pant appreciated the vision of volunteers working with the NGO and encouraged them to carry on the good work. Total fifteen students participated in activities.

FIELD VISIT TO SPECIAL CELL OF BHAVAN VIDYALAYA SCHOOL CHANDIGARH

Date: 19th DECEMBER 2015

It is rightly said that anybody can teach but it is the compassion and dedication that differentiate a teacher from a layman. So, in order to teach the αLPHA REACHERS' that compassion and dedication are essential qualities to be a teacher, Chitkara College of Education organized a visit to Bhawan Vidyalaya's Special Cell. Bhawan Vidyalaya has a special section established specifically to cater to the needs of differently abled children. For αLPHA REACHERS', it was a very learning as well as enriching experience. The αLPHA TEACHERS' interacted with the students and got practical and hands-on experience wherein they learnt how to tackle the real situations that arise in the classroom. The αLPHA REACHERS' truly understood the concept of Individual Differences and Individualized training as the teachers in those Special Cells do not expect the students to reach up to their level but the teachers with immense care, love and affection comes down to the level of the students and then teach them as their own children. Probably this is the reason that the students are so comfortable with them that even the idea of holiday makes them fidgety. Total fifteen students participated in activities.

INTERNATIONAL MOTHER LANGUAGE DAY - QUALITY EDUCATION, LANGUAGE(S) OF INSTRUCTION AND LEARNING OUTCOMES
Date: 03rd MARCH 2016

Keeping in mind the significance of the mother tongue, Centre declared 21st February as 'Matrabhasha Divas'. As per the directions of UGC, Chitkara College of Education for Women, Chitkara University, Punjab, celebrated 'Matrabhasha Diwas' and organized several activities like Adhoori Kahani Puri Karo and Pratilekh for the αLPHA TEACHERS' such as Punjabi and Hindi. This was one of the steps toward helping in preserving the linguistic diversity of our Nation. UNESCO has declared February 21, 2016 as International Mother Tongue Day. The objective behind celebrating included sensitizing people about the need for greater use of mother tongue and other Indian languages, as mother language is the one through which a person can express easily. It also aimed at highlighting the need to impart among the students the communication skills and proficiency in mother tongue and other Indian languages. Total twelve students participated in the event.

NIGHT SKY GAZING

Date: 20th MAY 2016

Hobbies develop often as a part of our curiosity; almost all of us watch the moon and stars in the sky, but perhaps too cursorily. The night sky watching was organized by Chitkara College of Education in collaboration with Pushpa Gujral Science City, Jalandhar, under the module EDS0ocial as a part of Issues of Conservation and Environment. The opulent lit night of cities hardly provides an opportunity for the same. Away from throbbing lights, the night sky displayed a star-studded show which was captivated by the amateur astronomers. The high-power telescope provided glimpses of different celestial bodies like Jupiter, Moons of Jupiter, Mars, Moon, Pole Star and Ursa Major. The experience of observing the celestial bodies was heart throbbing. Total two hundred student participated in the event.

FIELD VISIT TO KAYA KALP VRIKSH

Date: 24th MAY 2016

Under the module EDSocial, International Biodiversity Day was organized in collaboration with “Punjab Biodiversity Board” and was sponsored by “National Biodiversity Authority, Govt. of India”. It was celebrated by Chitkara College of Education under Issues of Conservation and Environment Regeneration wherein a Field visit was organized to the largest Banyan Tree i.e. Kaya Kalp Vriksh of the State of Punjab at Cholti Kheri, Khera Mandal, Fatehgarh Sahib. The canopy of the tree spreads over 3 to 4 acres of land. According to local information, the tree is a few hundred years old and known as ‘Kaya Kalp Vriksh’. The local belief is that nobody can stop the relentless spread of the tree. As the tree is surrounded by private land, the adjoining land owners not dare to cut any branch which may grow and cover their land. It is believed that any person in the past who tried to stop the spread of the tree had to face grave misfortunes. The usage of waste wood or fallen leaves of the tree is considered equally unpropitious. Thus, the great banyan tree continues to grow undisturbed. The αLPHA TEACHERS’ of Chitkara College of Education were briefed by the Sarpanch, S. Gurvinder Singh, village Cholti Kheri, about the largest Banyan tree. A Healthy refreshment was also arranged for the αLPHA TEACHERS’ on the field visit to Cholti Kheri. Total fourteen students participated in the event.

CELEBRATION OF INTERNATIONAL WOMEN'S DAY
DATE: 08TH MARCH 2016

International women's day is celebrated globally on 8th march every year. The celebration mainly recognizes the women personalities who are being great in their respective fields. Nowadays, women have given or contributed great to the country and society.

Chitkara College of Pharmacy, Chitkara University, Punjab has organized One day workshop on Legal Rights for Women with a theme of "Planet 50-50 by 2030: Step It Up for Gender Equality" on 08.03.2016. 110 students & faculty members from Chitkara University were a part of this function. Dr Shikha Gupta, Neelam Hospital Rajpura was invited as a chief guest and she gave an expert talk on the topic "Women in medicine: recent perspectives and trends". Dr. Sandeep Arora, Director Chitkara College of Pharmacy, started the celebration with an appreciating speech.

Dr. Rupinder Sodhi, Dr. Rajni Bala, Dr. Anju Goel, Dr. Thakur Gurjeet Singh, Ms. Neelam Sharma, Ms. Ritchu Babbar and Ms. Ankur Gera participated in panel discussion and the main topic of discussion was Legal Rights for Women. A woman is basically a complete book, which gives us lessons on every phase of our life. A woman is the only who can sacrifice her life, her dreams for her family and also supports there family in every condition. Women's day has a great significance and is celebrated in all schools and colleges for the appreciation and respect for women. This is the day which is to inspire all the females and also for promoting gender equality. Now also, there are some areas in which the females are not regarded equal to the men. So many organizations, NGOs and schemes are there by our government to treat them good and equal. On this day, many programs related to social issues are telecasted and many campuses are also organized for the women. A healthy discussion was done about women's rights which includes – right to equal pay, right to dignity and decency, right against workplace harassment (Under this act, she can submit a written complaint to an Internal Complaints Committee (ICC) at a branch office within a period of 3 months), female sexual assault victims have the right to keep their identity anonymous, right against domestic violence, right to get free legal aid (Under the Legal Services Authorities Act, female rape victims have the right to get free legal aid or help from the Legal Services Authority who has to arrange a lawyer for her), right to register virtual complaints (The law gives women the provision for filing virtual complaints via e-mail, or writing her complaint and sending it to a police station from a registered postal address. Further, the SHO sends a police constable to her place to record her complaint. This is in case a woman is not in a position to physically go to a police station and file a complaint), right against being stalked (Section 354D of the IPC makes way for legal action to be taken against an offender if he/she follows a woman, tries to contact her to foster personal interaction repeatedly despite a clear indication of disinterest; or monitor the use by a woman of the internet, email or any other form of electronic communication). The session was really very interesting and it made everyone aware of the current scenario of women's legal rights.

SPORTS AND FITNESS ACTIVITY
Date: 28th December 2015

The visit to Decathlon, Zirakpur for the students of Chitkara college of Sales and Retail Marketing proved very fruitful as students learned about practical aspects of retail management such as Store operations, Inventory management and control, handling manpower, roaster creation and scheduling, etc. The purpose of this bootcamp was to spread awareness about physical fitness and mental well-being among the youth. As Punjab is facing the problem of drug addiction among the youth, the participants were also apprised about the bad effects of drug addiction. 35 students along with faculty members thoroughly enjoyed the activities and learnt a lot. The thrill and excited to be at one of the leading sports brand was clearly seen on the faces of these budding managers.

ENHANCING TRADE SKILLS

Date: 12th October 2015

To educate the local vendors about how to enhance their trade and expand their business, the students of CCSRM took this initiative by visiting Village Jhansla. As these small vendors lack the trade knowledge and are hardly aware about business expansion opportunities. 33 students of MBA Sales & Retail Marketing took this opportunity to transfer the knowledge learnt in the classroom to these small vendors at Village Jhansla. The students questioned the vendors about the challenges they are facing in the business and tried to provide the best possible solution. Vendors were thankful to the Chitkara University for this Initiative.

PREPARATION OF RURAL DEVELOPMENT PLAN- RAMNAGAR, PUNJAB

Date: 25TH SEPTEMBER 2015

As part of their Architecture Design Studio, 80 students of fifth Semester B.Arch. of Chitkara School of Planning and Architecture (CSPA), have taken up a project aimed at 'Design Interventions for Upgrading the Quality of Life' of the Village Ram Nagar, located around 2.5 km from the Chitkara University, Punjab. The project is being conducted under the supervision of a team of faculty members, namely Ar. Harveen Bhandari, Ar. Kanika Bansal, Ar. Ranjit Singh, Ar. Sher Ali Dar, and, Ar. Shikha Garg, with advice from two of our senior Visiting Faculty, former Chief Architects Ar. R.L. Goyal and Ar. S.S. Sandhu. The genesis of the project lies in the fact that today our villages are facing many problems due to lack of engineering and architecture initiatives. The objective of the project, thus, is to sensitize our students to the ground reality of India's rural environments and to build special attitudes and skills for creating appropriate, context-responsive designs for such situations. The project continued till the end of the current semester and comprises various stages, such as identifying unique attributes of the chosen case study, i.e., Ram Nagar, through study and documentation of its settlement pattern, design and usage of public/open spaces, design of various types of buildings, construction systems, etc., as well as detailed household surveys and other forms of interaction to identify need-based development issues within the village. The results would be analysed for formulation of design project (s). The project would end with various Design Proposals.

Introduction

Heritage significance refers to the core values of a heritage place for which we want to conserve it. Understanding heritage significance is the fundamental first step of any heritage conservation and management process. A thorough understanding of significance provides a strong basis for sound conservation and management decisions. It is also imperative for the public, including visitors, to know what is so significant about a place that it warrants special efforts for its safeguarding. This understanding makes conservation meaningful for everyone and generates support for it. Interpretation and Presentation make the significance of a heritage place accessible to everyone.

Interpretation refers to the full range of potential activities intended to heighten public awareness and enhance understanding of cultural heritage site. These can include print and electronic publications, public lectures, on-site and directly related off-site installations, educational programmes, community activities, and ongoing research, training, and evaluation of the interpretation process itself.

Presentation more specifically denotes the carefully planned communication of interpretive content through the arrangement of interpretive information, physical access, and interpretive infrastructure at a cultural heritage site. It can be conveyed through a variety of technical means, including, yet not requiring, such elements as informational panels, museum-type displays, formalized walking tours, lectures and guided tours, and multimedia applications and websites.

This workshop focuses exactly on this: how to help locals and visitors understand the heritage significance of a place through interpretation and presentation.

Modern Heritage

The assessment of heritage significance of modern heritage and its interpretation is relatively a new topic in heritage education. When compared to archaeological sites or ancient monuments, modern heritage has a relatively short history and its architectural value is often its most visible quality.

Brochure of the Workshop

Consequently, the architectural value often gets the highest regards in the interpretation and presentation of modern heritage sites. However, modern heritage also represent significant stages of our recent history and many of them over time have acquired significant social meanings. This workshop provides us a unique opportunity to discuss this within the context of Panjab University's special architectural ensemble of the modern movement.

Modern Architecture of the Panjab University

Chandigarh is a historic city relatively new and planned as a synthesis of modern movement in architecture. Interpretation is especially important when the significance of a resource isn't immediately obvious to visitors. As an example of modern architecture, the edifices of Chandigarh are essentially an architect's architecture. They can be too abstract and perplexing for common man to comprehend and appreciate.

Built from 1960 onwards, this area differs from other areas of Chandigarh essentially on account of its function, activity structure, the extremely generous scale of its open spaces and unusual architectural vocabulary not used elsewhere in the city. It also becomes significant for containing a collection of buildings representing a different aspect of Pierre Jeanneret's creative potential.(1999, Joshi) The original buildings consist of the Gandhi Bhawan, University Library, administration building, and hostels. Other significant buildings also include the student centre and the arts gallery from the 1980's.

The Workshop

The workshop focuses on developing a system for assessing the heritage significance and linking it to heritage interpretation of the modern heritage of Panjab University.

The students are required to develop a schematic representation of a system for assessing the heritage significance of selected modern architectural heritage of the university and link the significance to their interpretation and presentation.

The workshop will focus on the Gandhi Bhawan and its immediate surroundings in Panjab University, Chandigarh (Map -1).

The buildings include

1. Administrative block
2. Arts college
3. University Library
4. Gandhi Bhawan
5. Boys hostel
6. Girls hostel

The final outcome of the 3-day workshop should include the following:

1. A diagram showing a methodology for understanding/assessing the site's heritage significance. The diagram should show the following:
  - a. What values should be considered in the assessment of the buildings;
  - b. What are the potential sources of data required for such assessment;
  - c. How such data will be collected and
  - d. How these data will be analysed.
2. An annotated but schematic map/plan of a walking trail that connects the key elements of the workshop area in a meaningful way. It should also show the interpretative infrastructure necessary to make users and visitors understand the significance. You should provide sufficient reasons for your choice and state how the trail can be linked to its (potential) heritage significance. We are not expecting a fully developed walking trail.

Mode of Presentation: PowerPoint or Prezi

CSPA students and faculty in a joint workshop with students from Macao, China

Chitkara School of Planning and Architecture organized a joint workshop with the Institute of Tourism studies, Macao on 26-28 March' 2016. The theme for this year's workshop was "Linking Heritage Significance to Interpretation using the Modern Heritage of Panjab University, Chandigarh as a Case".

The workshop started with an introductory session on at Gandhi Bhawan, Panjab University. The students from both the institutions then worked on site on Sunday and presented their work on Monday at the concluding session.

This is the third consecutive year when CSPA collaborated for such event and it is always a very enriching experience for both the faculty and the students to work with professionals from different fields with the common goal of protection and preservation of heritage.

PREPARATION OF VILLAGE DEVELOPMENT PLAN- JHANSLA, PUNJAB

Date: 22-Feb-2016 to 23- April 2016

As part of their curriculum. 114 of the 6th semester students of Chitkara school of Planning and Architecture formatted a 'Village development Plan' for village Jhansla, Punjab after doing an in-depth study of the village.

The study was undertaken in groups and comprised the following:

1. Identifying unique physical attributes of the chosen village - Study & Documentation of the chosen area, including aspects of settlement conditions, settlement patterns, Existing public/ open spaces, design of Building, construction systems, services & socio-economic conditions.
2. Household/ Socio economic surveys & interviews for identification of development issues within the village.
3. Analysis of factual data received from surveyed data, gap identification and formulation of village development plan.

The outcome of the entire process has been proven to be a rewarding exercise for the students as it sensitizes them to the ground reality of India's rural environment and to build special attitude and skills for creating appropriate, context- responsive design for such solutions.

ARV 9306 – ARCHITECTURAL DESIGN - VI
SEMESTER-VI DESIGN PROJECT-II (Jan-May 2016)

DESIGNING FOR RURAL ENVIRONMENTS

DESIGN OBJECTIVES:

To build special attitudes and skills for designing for rural environments:

- a. Identifying unique attributes of such environments
- b. Identifying development issues of such societies
- c. Identifying the Gaps in a rural settlement.
- d. Creating context-responsive designs

COURSE CONTENT:

The project is to be undertaken in groups of 6-7 students and would comprise the following stages:

- i. Identifying unique physical attributes of the chosen village -- Study and documentation of the chosen area, including aspects of settlement conditions, settlement patterns, existing public / open spaces, design of buildings, construction systems, services and socio-economic conditions.
- ii. Household / socio-economic surveys & interviews for identification of development issues within the chosen example
- iii. Analysis of factual data received from surveyed data, Formulation of design project/s
- iv. Design Proposals (in various stages)

PREFACE -THE NEED FOR ARCHITECTURAL INTERVENTION IN VILLAGES:

India has seen an unprecedented economic growth in the last few decades primarily because of urban activities. But it would not be right to limit the definition of 'developed India' to its urban centers. The term must necessarily include the development of the backbone of India - its rural strength. Scattered throughout India are more than 6,45,00 villages. It is in these villages that India's most basic occupation –agriculture - takes place.

Today our villages are facing many problems due to lack of engineering and architecture initiatives. From limited or no access to design talent, technology and new and improved building methods, our villages are being forced to remain as crumbling units of past. Therefore, there is a need to address the problem and bridge the urban-rural gap. If India is to aim for sustained growth, it is important that villages in India should be evolving as one of our strengths and at par with urban India. The main challenge is to provide lacking infrastructural facilities and upgrade the existing ones by bringing the creativity of technical education to spaces and places needed, in short developing sensitivity towards designing for rural environments.

Circular regarding village Study

THE STUDY AREA:

The chosen village for study and design intervention is Jhansla, Rajpura, Punjab. The village is accessed from the Chandigarh Patiala National Highway. It lies in close vicinity to Chitkara University (approximately 1.5 kms). The study area has been chosen keeping in mind its proximity to the college, easy approach and the small size of the village which would enable documentation to be completed within the limited time. The village also has various types of development issues, all of which will help students to understand the needs of such environments and propose context-related solutions. The location plan and Google earth image have been attached for your reference. The village has population of 1542 as per Population Census 2001 and a total settlement area is 20 hectares approx.

METHODOLOGY OF STUDY:

The study would be undertaken in groups each of 6-7 students. Each team will be allotted a specific area/zone for a Land-use plan, detailed survey, analysis and proposing a Design project for Gap filling in the settlement. They are expected to follow the methodology given below:

a. RECONNAISSANCE SURVEY:

Since the Design Phase of the Project would cover the entire village, it is imperative that each team regardless of the area allocated to it for detailed analysis, visits the entire village, navigating their way through various lanes and neighborhoods with the help of the provided Google Earth map of the village. During this preliminary visit, each group is expected to record their first impressions regarding the physical characteristics (such as streets patterns, building types, open spaces, etc) as well as non-physical characteristics (such as villagers, their lifestyle, occupation, etc) of the village through notes, sketches, photographs, interviews and observations.

DOCUMENTING BUILDING OF HERITAGE VALUE IN MALERKOTLA PUNJAB

Date: 15th to 21st March 2016

A total of 114 students of 6th semester at Chitkara School of Planning and Architecture have begun documentation of the Mubarak Mahal and the Shahi Maqbara at Malerkotla.

In pursuit of excellence always, the team of Chitkara School of Planning and Architecture, 6th Semester Students along with 8 Faculty Members had undertaken a week-long on-site documentation of the Architectural Heritage of the historic town of Malerkotla. The results were compiled into an illustrated account of various technical aspects as well detailed Measured Drawings of the buildings documented and were showcased in the Exhibition. This was a Pioneering Project, which will continue over the coming years, and ultimately converted into a publication on the rich heritage of Punjab.

SIX MONTHS BASIC COMPUTER COURSE TRAINING

Date: 4th January, 2016

34 under privileged students of 12th Batch were awarded with the certificates for six months' basic computer course training by Punjabi Welfare Society in association with Chitkara Education Trust. Exams were conducted on 15-08-2016.

MOU was signed on 8 December, 2010 between Punjabi Welfare Society, Cheeka and Chitkara Education Trust for six-month basic computer training course under "Mission Outreach". This agreement is based upon the commitment to promote free of cost, charitable, need based education for underprivileged section of the society. Prof. Gautam Malik and Prof. Harvinder Singh, Associate Professor in Mechanical Engg are looking after all the correspondence with the Punjabi Welfare Society.

First batch which started in October ended in March and External exam was conducted on 26 March 2010. Students are trained for M.S Excel, M.S Word, Power Point Presentation, Paint etc. Certificates are provided by Chitkara Educational Trust. Some of past students have been placed in good firms and are earning good amount which makes their parents feel proud.

TREE PLANTATION DRIVE ON INDEPENDENCE DAY

Date: 15th August, 2015

NSS department of Chitkara University celebrated Independence Day with tree plantation drive. The purpose of tree plantation is saving the endangered environment and to beautify our life. Trees are valuable gifts of nature. They are known as the best friends of human beings. They benefit us in various ways. Dr. Madhu Chitkara, Vice Chancellor, Chitkara University faculty and NSS volunteers participated in this activity after the flag hosting ceremony. More than 50 saplings were planted on this day. 30 saplings were planted by NSS volunteers and 20 by the faculty members.

CELEBRATION OF SMOKE FREE DIWALI

Date: 4th November 2015

Diwali is a very important festival of India. Usually, people celebrate this festival with crackers which creates noise and smoke. Sometimes this smoke becomes dangerous for asthmatic people. Our whole country vanishes in smoke on this very day.

To come out of these things, 100 NSS volunteers of CSPA appealed to the students to celebrate this Diwali as smoke free Diwali. Some of the volunteers taught a new technique to make smoke free cracker with paper called "Paper Pataka". Mr. Gurprit Singh, Programme Officer NSS also share the importance of smoke free Diwali with volunteer.

DENTAL CHECKUP CAMP

Date: 17th to 18th November, 2015

Life is full of experiences. The NSS volunteers of Chitkara School of Planning & Architecture had a learning experience through a visit to Gian Sagar Dental Hospital.

During the visit to the dental hospital our volunteers were made familiar with the importance and the correct way to protect our teeth. Beginning with the explanation of proper techniques of brushing to the treatment of various dental issues, every student was examined by the upcoming dentists.

While being treated for certain dental problems, each student was advised to take precautionary steps to prevent future damage to the enamel of the teeth. Treatment like scaling, removal of deposits, cavity filling etc. was provided to the required students. 50 NSS volunteers participated in this camp.

CELEBRATION OF INTERNATIONAL WOMEN'S DAY

Date: 8th March, 2016

Self defence is a way to protect any misdoing and is a must in today's world. Every person is in the need to learn and practice self defence whenever needed. Many campaigns and awareness programs are conducted all over the world.

A similar program was conducted on 8th March 2016 in Chitkara School of Planning & Architecture for twenty (20) girls of first year to teach them self defence. It was organized by Mr. Vikramjeet Singh, 3rd year student and some more NSS Volunteers of CSPA under the guidance of Mr. Gurpreet Singh (NSS School Officer, CSPA).

The class was conducted by Diksha Brahma (1st year student CSPA). She is red belt in martial arts. She started with warm up session and then she taught the girls few basic techniques to defend themselves in daily life. Some punching and kicking techniques were also the part of the session. She demonstrated those techniques practically with help of few boys of first year. It was a great experience for the girls and was a very interactive and learning session.

The session was concluded with very valuable words of Prof. Surjit Singh Bais (Principal, CSPA). He talked with girls about increasing crimes against the young girls in our country. He motivated the girls to learn more techniques of Self Defence and not to be afraid of male dominated world. He honored Diksha Brahma with memento and praised about her skills in martial arts and asked her to teach more techniques especially to the girls who are staying in hostels.

Overall this session was very encouraging & motivating for the girls. Hope to have more sessions like this in near future.

BLOOD DONATION CAMP

Date: 7th April, 2016

In Chitkara University, students are always encouraged to devote themselves toward the principle of community service and being generous. Keeping this in mind, B.B.A- B.Com Department of Chitkara Business School, Chitkara University, Rajpura organized a blood donation camp. Students participated enthusiastically. More than 150 students registered with the camp and almost 114 students donated blood.

The camp was organized in collaboration with GMCH, Sector 32 Chandigarh (Dept. of transfusion and medicine) under the guidance of Dr. Tanvi and NSS dept. of Chitkara University under the guidance of Neelam Verma (Prog. Co-ordinator NSS) and BBA-B.com department under the guidance of Sandeep Singh (Prog. Manager BBA and B.com dept of CBS). The event was a huge success and we look forward to organizing such camps in future.

The gift of blood is a gift of life. Blood cannot be manufactured; it can only come from generous donors. No doubt the first and foremost advantage of donating blood is the proud feeling of saving someone's life. The blood we donate can save someone's loved one's life.

Vice Chancellor of Chitkara University, Dr. Madhu Chitkara also visited the camp. Other dignitaries like Wing Commander R.S Gill (Vice President, University Affairs), Col. Rakesh Sharma (Associate Director), Ms. Sovia Raj (Dean Dept. CSL), Amit Mittal (Dean Research and development) excitedly participated in the camp.

CELEBRATION OF DR. B.R. AMBEDKARA JAYANTI

Date: 14th April 2016

Chitkara University's National Service Scheme (NSS) in collaboration with Chitkara School of Mass Communication celebrated the birth anniversary of Dr. B.R. Ambedkar by conducting a 'Quiz Contest' in the campus to coincide with his birthday.

Dr. S.C Sharma, Registrar of Chitkara University, and Col. Rakesh Sharma, Associate Director of University Affairs, were the guests of honor for the event. Ms. Neelam Verma, Programme Coordinator NSS, and Ms. Gurjeet Kaur, Assistant Professor (Chitkara School of Mass Communication), conducted the event. NSS officers of various departments were also present.

Students from various departments like B.Sc. Nursing, Architecture, Pharmacy, etc. participated in the contest. In all there were 12 teams taking part in the contest. The questions in the quiz were based on the Constitution, Dr. B.R. Ambedkar's contribution and the political scenario of the country. The quiz consisted of four rounds namely MCQ round, Pehchaan Kaun, audio round and buzzer round. Three teams qualified for the final round. The first position was secured by students of BSc 2nd year (Girish Muthreja, Abhilasha Bali and Anchal Sharma) and the students from BSc MIT and CSE (Sajid Ashraf, Jaleel Khursheed Sheikh and Manish Tomar) bagged the second position. All the 50 participants were given participation certificates and the winners were awarded with gifts along with certificates.
